THE HON'BLE SRI JUSTICE V.ESWARAIAH

Writ Petition No.833 of 2006

ORDER:

Heard the learned counsel appearing for the petitioners as well as the learned Government Pleader for Home appearing for the respondents.

It is stated that premises bearing No.3-5-786/20/B admeasuring 150 square yards situated at King Koti, Hyderabad was gifted in favour of the first petitioner by her husband by way of executing a gift settlement deed through the second petitioner, to which, petitioners 4 and 5 are the witnesses. The third petitioner is the brother-in-law of the first petitioner. It is also stated that there are certain disputes with regard to the said gift settlement deed, and the brother of the first petitioner said to have given an oral complaint in that connection. It is further stated that without there being any written complaint/report, the respondents are illegally interfering with the civil disputes and personal life of the petitioners.

Having regard to the facts and circumstances of the case, I am of the opinion that unless any complaint/report is given against the petitioners alleging that they committed a cognizable offence and such report is registered, the respondents cannot interfere with the civil disputes and personal life of the petitioners.

Accordingly, the writ petition is disposed of directing the respondents not to interfere with the personal life and liberty of the petitioners, and not to interfere with the civil disputes without there being any complaint/report filed against the petitioners and unless such report is registered and investigation is taken up in accordance with law. No costs.
